The Ministry for Foreign Affairs advises against travel to all countries up to 15 June 2020

Published 03 April 2020 · Updated 06 April 2020

In light of the extensive spread of the COVID-19 virus and the rapidly changing and uncertain situation for travellers, the Ministry for Foreign Affairs has extended the decision it took on 14 March 2020 to advise against non-essential travel to all countries so that it applies until 15 June 2020.

For countries or areas to which the MFA had advised against travel before 14 March 2020, these decisions still apply.

The decision to extend the advice against non-essential travel to all countries was taken on 3 April 2020. This advice applies until 15 June 2020, when the situation will be reappraised.
